

LESSON 10 WORKSHEET

A simple plan for your body

Ordinary, nourishing food is the default. These are gentle plans, not targets: adjust them if your health or your need for rest requires it.

|                    |                                                                                                                                                          |
|--------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Default     | eat normally, drink according to your usual health needs, and rest.                                                                                      |
| Optional    | consider food fasting only if it is already familiar to you and a healthcare professional who knows your current health has confirmed it is appropriate. |
| Alternative | practise non-food restraint from digital input, entertainment, or unnecessary speech.                                                                    |
| Stop        | end any practice that causes concerning symptoms and seek appropriate help.                                                                              |

Health and safety: please read before you plan

Without exception: no food fasting for anyone with a current or past eating disorder or disordered eating; follow your meal plan and treatment guidance, and if food-related thoughts intensify, pause the retreat exercises and contact your treatment provider or support person. Do not restrict water. If you may be physically dependent on alcohol, do not stop suddenly on your own; seek medical advice first. If you feel dizzy, faint, confused or shaky, or unwell in a way you cannot explain, stop any fast, sit or lie down safely, and do not drive. Severe or worsening symptoms: call your local emergency number. Do not remain alone.

My plan (one day, three days, or the days of your at-home retreat)

|                                          | Day 1 | Day 2 | Day 3 |
|------------------------------------------|-------|-------|-------|
| Morning meal                             |       |       |       |
| Midday meal                              |       |       |       |
| Evening meal                             |       |       |       |
| Something simple between                 |       |       |       |
| How I will get it (bring, buy, provided) |       |       |       |
| I will allow myself to sleep from        |       |       |       |
| I will wake (gently) at                  |       |       |       |
| Gentle movement, and where it is safe    |       |       |       |

Considering a food fast?

- ☐ It is already a healthy, established practice for me.
- ☐ A qualified healthcare professional who knows my current health and medications has confirmed it is appropriate.

If either box is not ticked, choose a non-food restraint instead:

- ☐ the digital boundary (Lesson 9)
- ☐ a pause from entertainment or news
- ☐ less unnecessary speech
